

Columbia, SC October 2015 Flood

In early October 2015 intense rainfall hit parts of the southeast flooding many areas. One city in particular was Columbia, SC.

This map is a brief example of how GIS could be used by emergency response personnel to identify areas of concern post-flood.

Sources: US Census, USGS, National Bridge Inventory Database

Author: David Mann

